LARGER REGISTRATION FEE WILL INCREASE P. O. INCOME

Fee Will be Increased to Ten Cents for Registered Packages or Letters on Nov. 1 and Receipts of Calumet Post Office Will be Swelled Several Hundred Dollars Annually.

Beginning Monday of next week, November 1, the postal registration fee of packages and letters in Calumet and elsewhere in the country will be increased from eight to ten cents. This is exclusive of the postage on the same. At the same time the indemnity rate for the loss of any registered article will be increased from $25 to $50. This is easy for Uncle Sam for seldom does a registered letter or package go astray. It is a most unusual thing for a registered package to get lost, the system of tracing articles sent through registered mail being very thorough. The only way that such mail can be stopped in transit is a breakdown or collision of the mail train, followed by the burning of the mail pouches or a hold-up by train robbers when the mails might be robbed. Fire or robbery are the only real means of defeating the postal service in its dealing with registered mail.

The local postoffice receives and sends out thousands of pieces of registered mail annually and Calumet alone will net the postoffice department several hundreds of dollars additional through the two-cent increase. Many thousands of dollars are sent through registered mail, mostly by business people.

Uncle Sam has a deficit of $20,000,000 in its postal department. It wants to lift some of this deficit, if not wipe it out altogether, and the increase in the registration fee is one of the ways and means that have been devised.

INTEREST MANIFESTED HERE.

In the absence of any political excitement at home, copper country people are taking great interest in the fight for the majority of New York city and reading everything that bears on the metropolitan political situation. The general impression locally seems to be that Judge Gaynor, backed by Tammany Hall, has the best show of winning out but there are many who think both Hearst and Barnard have a fighting chance against him. The angle of the situation which seems to provoke the most discussion is the strength that Hearst will develop some claiming that he will outrun Barnard, the republican candidate, and that he stands a chance of election, while others are just as positive that both of Hearst's opponents will leave him far behind when the votes are counted.

CONSIDER AMALGAMATION.

The members of the order will also consider the work in the fourth or side degree of the order. Work in the second degree will be conferred upon several candidates.

TEKLA FARM DELIGHTS CALUMET MUSIC LOVERS

The musical recital at the Calumet theater last evening by Mrs. Tekla Farm-McKinzie and her husband, Bart P. McKinzie, was one of the most successful ever given in this city.

A crowded house greeted the entertainers, and throughout the evening manifested their appreciation by frequent applause. Tekla Farm, who appeared in this city about two years ago under the auspices of the Ladies' Industrial society of the Calumet Congregational church, was even better than when she appeared here before. Her voice with its splendid range and tone has lost none of its sweetness, and was much appreciated by those present last evening. Bart P. McKinzie, has an excellent baritone voice and the numbers rendered by him shared with those given by Mrs. McKinzie in the favor of the audience. Probably the numbers which appealed to the Calumet patrons most were the folk songs rendered by Mrs. McKinzie just before the close of the entertainment. The numbers rendered by Mr. McKinzie, "Oh Fair, Oh Sweet and Holy," and "Mother of Mine" were greatly enjoyed.

Two local entertainers appeared on the platform, Miss Elsie Bunt as pianist, and Miss Helen Forsberg, violinist. The former rendered the "Witch's Dance," and the latter a selection from "Faust," both in a very capable manner. The closing number on the program, "The Passage Bird's Farewell" by Mr. and Mrs. McKinzie, was exceptionally good.

Mr. and Mrs. McKinzie will appear this evening in Houghton, at the Presbyterian church, and a successful entertainment is assured. They will continue to give entertainments throughout the northwestern cities until about December 1. The proceeds of the entertainment given in Calumet last evening are for the Calumet Associated Charities.

HAS BEAUTIFUL SCENERY.

Primrose, the Famous Minstrel King, Will be Here Saturday.

George Primrose, and his big minstrel organization will be seen at the Calumet theater Saturday matinee and night. The company contains many well-known comedians, singers and dancers. Eight big acts of merit will be seen, following the first part, including Governor Bowen, with a rattling budget of new stories and songs; Harvey Henderson and Lewis, with their original comedy musical act, which is filled with melodious jingles and fun; George H. Primrose in his new dancing conception, "Dancers Past and Present," wherein will be shown bits taken from the work of more than twenty famous minstrel men dating back from the days of the popular Billy Emerson to dancers of the present time; "The Guess Who Girls," a comedy skit; the Church City Four, the Ward Bros., world's greatest youthful dancers, and three other novel features.

The performance concludes with a one-act southern spectacle in four scenes, the first a wharf at New Orleans, with the merry dorkies loading the good ship "Robert E. Lee," which is due to sail that evening, filled with "lasses and cotton for the north and incidentally carrying two youthful dorkies, who are making their first trip across the Mason and Dixon line; the next shows the "Robert E. Lee" in the distance on her way up the Mississippi. The third finds the old dorkies and mammoes and their return from the cotton fields, and the fourth and last shows the two boys upon their return to their old plantation home, saddened but wiser, after their two month's stay in the north. The last is a beautiful southern picture, depicting the merry dorkies, showing his happy manner and method of celebrating the return home of those they love. There are several quaint negro songs interpolated through the piece, and as well an abundance of good, wholesome comedy.

The seven-months-old child of Mr. and Mrs. William Rajanien died yesterday at Ahmeek. The funeral will take place this afternoon with services at Rev. A. L. Heldmann's church on Pine street.

SLOVENIAN-CROATIAN LODGES NAME SUCCESSOR TO GRAHEK

Dr. Rounavaara Succeeds Physician Who Gives Up Local Office to Take Larger One of Medical Examiner for Slovenian-Croatian Union With Headquarters in Pittsburgh.

A meeting of the Slovenian-Croatian union was held in Calumet last evening for the purpose of naming a successor to Dr. J. V. Grahek, who has resigned the office of medical examiner of the copper country Slovenian-Croatian lodge, to take the office of examining physician for the National Croatian union, with headquarters in Pittsburgh, Pa.

Dr. H. H. Rounavaara of this city, was the unanimous choice for the office of medical examiner for the Slovenian-Croatian union in the copper country, and he will enter upon his new duties at once. Dr. Rounavaara is a Calumet boy, being a graduate of the U. of M. He has been practicing in Calumet for the past three or four years.

Dr. J. V. Grahek will leave Saturday for Pittsburgh to take hold of his new duties. His removal will be generally regretted. Since his graduation he has practiced in Calumet, and he has many friends who will regret his departure, although wishing him every success in his new field of labor.

Dr. Grahek was paid a very high compliment last evening by the members of the local Slovenian-Croatian union, when a vote of thanks was extended him for past services, and coupled with it was an expression of best wishes for his future success. The resolution was spontaneous and hearty and was all the more appreciated on that account.

Dr. Rounavaara's field in this territory covers the entire copper country, with a membership of about 5,000.
